BLAUER TACTICAL SYSTEMS

“Pioneering Cutting-Edge, Real-World Self-Defence since 1979”

Blauer Tactical Systems (BTS) is one of the world’s leading consulting companies specializing in the research and development of close quarter tactics & scenario-based training for law enforcement, military and professional self-defense instructors.

During the 1980’s, BTS pioneered reality-based self-defense with their groundbreaking ‘Panic Attack’ drill, the design of the world’s first functional scenario-based training suit and the first self-defense program based on psychology, physiology and kinesiology.

The S.P.E.A.R. SYSTEM™ (Spontaneous Protection Enabling Accelerated Response) is a scientifically researched & medically reviewed personal defense measure that exploits the body’s natural responses to violence and danger. This survival mechanism, dubbed: Startle-Flinch Response has been scientifically integrated into a series of neuro-muscular drills that teaches individuals how to convert their instinctive reactions into protective and combative tactics.

HIGH GEAR™ is considered to be the world’s most dynamic role-player gear because it allows trainers to engage in realistic and integrated scenarios in practically any environment. BTS has developed an analytic & systematic approach to scenario training by reverse engineering real world confrontations. This program is called Ballistic Microfights™.

BTS is now a world-leader in the design of force-on-force training equipment, as well as program management for police defensive tactics, military combative training, close quarter combatives, and personal defence training. HIGH GEAR™, Ballistic Microfights™ and the S.P.E.A.R. SYSTEM™ are now used by many of the world’s leading DT, Combatives and self-defense instructors to augment their personal defense skills.

Our focus, our mission and our path have not wavered since we began teaching real-world self-defense in 1979... we have been on the cutting-edge of reality-based training for the self-defence world ever since.

“The S.P.E.A.R. SYSTEM™ utilizes instinctive motion to effect a combative change in both participants. Its effectiveness is grounded in basic physiology and as a result although initially apparently simple it is fundamentally as complex as the system it is designed to protect, humans.”

Robert Smith, MD

“My review of the medical literature showed that while the studies were not done for self-defense in particular but rather [were intended] to look at the effects of sudden fear or aversive stimuli on the human mind and body, they found concepts that are described in Mr Blauer’s system. It seems his concepts are reproducible in different disciplines and are universally valid.”

Dr Eric Levasseur, MD, CMFC

“The flinch response is a well-recognized reflex response in which the threatened subject adopts an automatic protective posture. The S.P.E.A.R. SYSTEM™ promotes recognition of the flinch response to sudden potentially threatening stimuli and advocates a system of self defence which commences from the postural position the response produces. As the resultant posture from the startle response is one we cannot choose, it makes sense that techniques of defence in sudden ambush start from this position.”

“Tony Blauer will take your natural reactions and re-wire them to serve the purpose of keeping you alive and on top of the game. Old dogs who supposedly cannot learn new tricks, take note: the S.P.E.A.R. SYSTEM™ is easily integrated with whichever CQC or martial arts skills you already have.”

Pavel Tsatsouline CEO, Tactical Kettlebell

“After almost 25 years of martial arts training and exploration (seven of them in Japan), I had run the gamut from youthful admiration of various systems and methods to seasoned disillusionment. Attending the Blauer Tactical Systems' P.D.R.™ Summer Combatives Camp changed all that for me.

Coach Blauer possesses such a unique combination of extreme talents as a martial athlete, tactical/strategic thinker, and communicator/coach, he reignited my passion for a pursuit that has shaped me over most of my life, absolutely demolishing a certain level of resignation that had crept in over the years.

The integrity so palpable in Tony's training methodologies and business practices is also completely manifest in his skilled staff. Thanks to all, by Sunday afternoon I was tired (yet energized), sore, and happy in the trinity of mind, body, and spirit.

Though I am highly appreciative of all the previous experience that had brought me to this point in my life, from a growth standpoint, I can't imagine a more thoroughly encompassing system than what I was introduced to that weekend.

I was so completely impressed that I enrolled in a P.D.R.™ Instructor Certification Seminar a couple of months later.”

Simply, one of the best martial artists I know.

Hi All,

Just wanted to drop a quick line about this year's Combative camp in NYC. It was a truly awesome experience from start to finish. I met some incredible people and had a wonderful time.

As always, Coach twisted and pulled and expanded our minds with his uncommon sense. I am still absorbing all the things I learned. I was inspired by the way Tony continues to refine the system, and was amazed at how much I knew, but didn't know. It is really something to watch Tony apply the concepts and principles of the system he has created in a dynamic form.

Everything Tony has put together has been isolated, pressure checked, drilled, and then applied. Nothing exists in theory. Everything has been tested again and again, and continues to be refined. Thanks to Tony, the Team and all the great people at the camp. I can't wait to do it again.

Mike Suyematsu

Thanks to Coach Blauer and the rest of the BTS staff for hosting another great camp.

Talk about diversity, there were first timers and veteran P.D.R.™ Team members, LEO's and military, even a couple of teenagers.

As always, the facilities were first rate, the event ran smoothly, the training was dynamic and filled with educational tips and advice.

Dana and I, and four of our staff members had a great time and we are looking forward to the next one.

“Awesome Camp. The presentation from Direct Action Medical Network was excellent. Seeing the System that Coach has developed shown to be medically the safest, fastest, most efficient way to pursue combative training was inspiring. To be able to teach one of my students tonight who is in medical school and refer back to what we heard only increased her own confidence in the P.D.R.™/S.P.E.A.R. SYSTEM™.”

As always Coach Blauer was just a blessing to learn from. There is always so much to absorb whenever you train with Coach. Having gone through the Advanced Weapons Protection Certification last February it was great cycling through some of that information again and then having new insights added to it.

The little nuances always amaze me. There is always a little more of an edge to put on the “S.P.E.A.R.™”.

Thanks to Coach Blauer all the BTS staff and those in attendance for a wonderful experience.

Joe Skovira

“I believe you and your team are truly pioneering the way forward in ‘Reality–Based Scenario Replication Training’. I was astounded by the amount of fine and detailed research and design that went into the course’s theory and practical drills. It is wonderful and certainly much needed for people who want to prepare and develop realistic emotional, psychological and physical tools needed for real-life street survival encounters, while at the same time respecting the all important need for safety in training!”

The combative Camp in NYC was a tremendous experience. I first became interested in the S.P.E.A.R. SYSTEM™ a few years ago and have since purchased many of the training tapes.

However, the camp was my first live experience and it was everything (and more) than I expected.

Coach Blauer and his team were very professional and provided an excellent atmosphere for learning.

The S.P.E.A.R. SYSTEM™ has changed my entire view and philosophy of martial arts and “real” self-defense. I look forward to attending more training sessions in the future and will continue to study the S.P.E.A.R. SYSTEM™.

I would strongly recommend anyone who is interested in true self-defense to attend one of Coach Blauer’s training sessions. It will be an experience you won’t soon forget.

Paul Rossi

Tony! I am a BIG fan of your work. I think that your contributions have taken the warrior community into an entirely new evolutionary step. And this new program of yours is a major step forward. I believe that hundreds of years from now, when the history of this Warrior Renaissance, this Golden Age of Warriors, is written, that Tony Blauer will be remembered as one of the great pioneers who propelled us forward to the next evolutionary step in warriorhood. And you can quote me on that!
